1.0 INTRODUCTION

Through this Request for Applications (RFA), the NC Department of Health and Human Services (NC DHHS);(DMHDDSAS) is launching the NC Strategic Prevention Framework for Prescription Drugs (SPF-Rx) grant funded by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), Center for Substance Abuse Prevention (CSAP). Through this initiative, the DMHDDSAS seeks to collaborate to use the Strategic Prevention Framework to address target substances of abuse with Local Management Entity-Managed Care Organizations (LME-MCOs), Community-based organizations implementing substance abuse prevention, and Community coalitions working to address substance abuse prevention.

1.1 PURPOSE

This project will be utilized to address overdose deaths related to prescription drug misuse and abuse within our state. Areas of focus include raising awareness about the dangers of sharing medications and working with medical communities on the risks of overprescribing to young adults; raising community awareness and bring prescription drug abuse prevention activities and education to schools, communities, parents, prescribers, and their patients.

DMHDDSAS is sponsoring this RFA to address substances of high use and impact using evidence-based prevention policies, programs, and practices. Funded applications must utilize the Strategic Prevention Framework to plan and implement this initiative. Prescription drug use among youth and young adults must be addressed in each funded proposal along with collaborating with the medical community to help raise awareness.

1.2 BACKGROUND

NC DHHS is committed to proactively planning for and addressing substances of concern in communities. This includes legal substances of use for youth and adults that are being misused and overprescribed.

In North Carolina, from 2000 to 2019, more than 16,500 North Carolinians died from unintentional opioid-involved overdose deaths. In 2019 alone, nearly five (5) North Carolinians died each day from unintentional opioid overdose. Opioid-involved overdoses have steadily increased, and while there was a decrease in overdose deaths and emergency department (ED) visits in 2018, these overdoses are on the rise again as of 2020. (NC Opioid Dashboard, 2021). As of August 2021, there have been 727 opioid overdose ED visits, which includes unintentional overdoses in North Carolina compared to the 803 of August 2020 (<https://www.injuryfreenc.ncdhhs.gov>). Commonly prescribed pain medications (i.e., oxycodone, hydrocodone, codeine) were the leading cause of opioid-involved overdoses.

North Carolina males have over twice the unintentional opioid-involved overdose death rate compared to females (21.2 compared to 9.8 per 100,000, respectively). Whites have the highest unintentional opioid-involved overdose death rate, at 20.1 per 100,000, followed closely by American Indians at 19.3 per 100,000. Unintentional opioid-involved overdose death rates are highest among adults ages 25-54 (<https://www.injuryfreenc.ncdhhs.gov>). According to the 2019 Youth Risk Behavior Survey, North Carolina high school students are more likely to take a prescription pain medicine without a doctor's prescription or differently than how a doctor told them to use it (counting drugs such as codeine, Vicodin, Oxycontin, Hydrocodone, and Percocet, one or more times during their life) compared to across the United States (16.6% compared to 14.3%). North Carolina high school females were also more likely to take a prescription pain medicine without a doctor's prescription or differently than how a doctor told them to use it than males (17.1% to 15.6%) (YRBS, 2021).

North Carolinians have also been overprescribed and prescribed opioids at a higher dose than what is recommended. The percentage of North Carolina residents being dispensed an opioid pill in 2020 was 13.7% on an annual basis, which accounts for 1,432,749 residents/patients (NC Opioid Dashboard, 2021). The number of individuals receiving dispensed opioids has decreased by 36%, but there is still much to be done around education on safer prescribing practices among NC healthcare providers (NC Opioid Action Plan, 2020).

This round of SPF-Rx funding will address prescription drug misuse and abuse. In addition, communities will also focus on working with their local medical communities on the risks of overprescribing to young adults and raising awareness about the dangers of sharing medications.
